USA WATER SKI

There's a new animal in the water- its name is XPC.

OJ Props has designed the entire XPC Marine Drive Systems line around Vesconite composites, and the difference shows.

With up to 10 times the lifespan of conventional materials, XPC products keep going long after traditional materials have given up. And with their incredible load-bearing strength, XPC bearings make shaft wear practically disappear.

With XPC Marine Drive Systems, our customers get tighter clearances and higher RPMs in everything from trawlers to hydroplane racing boats – and performance has gone through the roof. Even under the dirtiest conditions, our products are developed to stand up to crushing punishment long after standard components have failed.

OJ Props is making this unique thermoset available in a wide variety of shapes and sizes. In fact, we'll work with you to customize parts that fit your vessel perfectly. Even metric to SAE or SAE to metric combinations are no problem. If you can name it, we can make it – and at standard pricing!
